

Evidence or not

Read the point below. Read each piece of evidence. Paraphrase the evidence and then explain why or why not the evidence proves the point.

Point: All around the world, sign language is helpful for people in many different ways.

Evidence		Does the evidence prove the point? Why or why not?
1. The same areas of the brain are used for understanding both sign language and spoken languages which means the brain is being used for both kinds of language.	Paraphrase
	Elaboration Question
2. Governments must support and promote the language rights for deaf communities.	Paraphrase
	Elaboration Question

3. Far from slowing down speech, babies using sign language before they can speak, actually increases the rate of verbal development.	Paraphrase
4. We know of a certain car salesman who gained 4 new customers overnight when it was discovered that he knew sign language.	Paraphrase
5. Sign language is a very useful skill when people are looking for jobs and it makes you a more valuable employee.	Paraphrase

	Elaboration Question
--	-----------------------------	--